RACHEL GOULD

RACHEL GOULD is known for her warm, velvety sound, unique interpretation of standard material, her outstanding musicianship, her original compositions sung and played by herself and others, and her generous, individualized teaching style, evidenced by her countless former students leaving their mark on today's international jazz scene. Rachel Gould, born in Camden, New Jersey, USA, studied cello and classical singing at Boston University. She began her professional singing career in the early 1970's in the United States, toured Europe and settled in Germany in 1975. After 6 years teaching at the Rheinische Musikhochschule in Cologne, she moved to Switzerland in 1988 to take up a teaching position at the Swiss Jazz School in Bern. In the end of 1991, Rachel moved to The Netherlands, where she then taught at the Royal Conservatory of the Hague for 20 years. She now divides her time between Holland and the United Kingdom. Rachel has made appearances on French, German, Japanese, Polish and Swiss TV and was the featured soloist for radio productions in Belgium, Croatia, France, Germany, Holland, Italy, Japan, Luxembourg, Poland, Russia, Slovenia, Switzerland, the United Kingdom and the United States.

PRESS & REVIEWS

Rachel Gould is an American jazz singer, now resident in the UK having spent many years living in Holland. As such, the maturity and experience that she brings to her profession is considerable. A singer who has recorded with Chet Baker amongst others, proved at the Pizza Express Jazz Club, that she is up there amongst the best. Gould was performing with an international quartet led by UK-based Italian saxophonist Renato D'Aiello, whom she met whilst singing in Europe. Their friendship has remained strong, and their rapport on stage showed the mutual respect they have for each other.

There was a touch of Carmen McRae about her, particularly in the swooping and soaring of phrases, the deeply resonant low notes and faultless diction. Gould's sprightly and sure-footed octave-hopping (I reckon the range is about three) in I Want To Be Happy was particularly impressive. Now that she's a resident here, I hope to be seeing Rachel Gould on our jazz stages much more.

Sarah Ellen Hughes, London Jazz News

Gould is blessed with a deep, effective voice; she realizes not only how to use space, but she also gives ample room for her musicians to solo.
